

335 West 194th Street | Glenwood, IL 60425 | P: 708.756.6660 | F: 708.756.6620

INTERNSHIP - MECHANICAL DESIGN ENGINEER

Morrison Container Handling Solutions is seeking a MECHANICAL DESIGN ENGINEER INTERN to join our engineering team. Interested candidates should email resume to: employment@morrison-chs.com.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Utilize proficient knowledge of engineering design principles to generate sound designs that meet Morrison standards for innovative, reliable container handling equipment and
- Collaborate with Lead Engineers, Manufacturing and Assembly team members to design and build problem-solving container handling equipment
- Using CAD software, produce standard, manufacture-ready designs; detail parts, and create mechanical drawings, assembly prints and specifications that enable the production team to correctly fabricate and assemble all engineering output
- Work part time while attending classes with full time work expected when not in session.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Pursuing Bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering or Mechanical Engineering Technology required
- Hands-on mechanical engineering design experience preferred
- Ability to work with Autodesk Inventor desired
- Attitude: Strong desire to succeed as part of a team; interest in contributing to a positive company culture; willingness to persist until the job is done right for the customer and embrace the Morrison "Support Built In" philosophy
- Reliability: Ability to meet deadlines with accuracy.
- Communication and Problem Solving: Ability to identify problems and review related information with colleagues to develop and evaluate options and implement solutions
- Mechanical Aptitude: Experience with mechanical systems and their designs, uses, repair and maintenance.

MORE INFORMATION

Morrison Container Handling Solutions in Glenwood, Illinois is the industry leader in the innovative design and manufacture of timing screws, change parts, custom container handling products, assemblies and machines for the packaging industry.

We are a well-established, family-run company with a record of success in solving the most complex container handling problems for national and international companies, always with Morrison's support-built-in culture. Morrison offers a competitive salary and benefits package including: health insurance, life insurance and disability insurance, 401(k) plan, profit sharing, and tuition reimbursement.

Visit our Website at morrison-chs.com for Product Information, Company History and to see videos of the types of container handling <http://morrison-chs.com/videos/>